SOCIETY is fast completing arrangements for celebrating the Fourth. This year it will be a three days' fete. Rarely, or never, before has the calendar fitted things just so.

Saturday, being a half-holiday usually for all, and the Fourth celebration being held over until Monday, makes the event a three days' holiday.

The Country club will serve a table d'hote dinner Saturday, Sunday and Monday at 7 o'clock, with special music on Monday evening. The Monday program starts at 9 o'clock with an eighteen-hole handicap medal play in classes A, B and C, with prizes in each class. At 2 p. m. there will be an eighteen-hole qualifying round handicap medal play, at 3 o'clock a driving contest and at 6 o'clock an approaching and putting contest.

At Seymour Lake Country club the forenoon Monday will be devoted to mixed golf contests and tennis matches. Mr. Shearman, the new golf professional, will have charge of the game and handsome prizes have been provided as trophies. In the afternoon there will be water sports and the formal opening and dedication of the children's playground. In the evening moving picture shows, fireworks and dancing.

Many family parties are being arranged for the opening of the new Speedway and Mr. and Mrs. Gould Dietz will open their cottage, "Oneaga," at Lake Manawa Sunday for their annual celebration there.

Women folks at the Country club are up in arms, for there now is every indication that there will be a dearth of men for the evening celebration. One by one they have been begging off, with the only excuse that they wanted to attend the big wrestling match at Rourke park.

To Attend Convention. The special train of the Pi Phi Beta Phi sorority, en route for Berkeley, Cal., stopped in Omaha this morning at 7:25. One hundred Pi Phi from eastern states got off the train and were greeted by forty Phi residents of Omaha. Girls from Missouri, Iowa, Ohio and Nebraska boarded the train here and by the time it arrives at Berkeley for the Phi convention the number will be 500. Thirty Pi Phi from different parts of Nebraska will be in attendance. The train was here for one hour and the alumnae of the Pi Phi sorority presented the visitors with six wicker baskets of candy. The baskets were tied with wine colored and blue ribbons, the sorority colors. The Omaha girls who left this morning on the special are:

- Misses—Mary Phillips, Lucille Scott, Florence Rugh, June Brown.

Pleasures Past. Mrs. George Williams Garboch entertained at a tea dance Friday in honor of Mrs. Michael Eller of Erie, Pa. The members of the Symposia club entertained Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Edna Levine. Prizes were won by Miss Elizabeth Hart and Miss Nora Reed. The evening was spent with music and games.

Social Tonight. A unique social is to be held tonight by the Christian Endeavor society of the First Christian church. The entertainment is called the "Horse Show." It includes entries of many and various horses and other features suggested by the name. The decorations are novel and original. Games appropriate to the occasion are planned.

With the Visitors. Mrs. C. Y. Smith arrived yesterday from Alexandria, La., and is at the Fontenelle. Later Mrs. Smith plans to visit Mr. and Mrs. Louis Nash at Nashwood.

Entertainers at Luncheon. Mrs. D. A. Poon gave a luncheon at her home in honor of Miss. Escoline Walden of Boston, former editor of the Farm Missionary Friend, and for Miss Belle Griffith, retired missionary from Japan. Covers were placed for:

White Shrine Club Party. The White Shrine club entertained at luncheon yesterday at the Happy Hollow club. The rooms were decorated with yellow and white, the club's colors, and 100 guests were present. A business meeting preceded the card game and at this meeting a club was organized to be known as the Sojourners' Club of the White Shrine. The following officers for the year were elected: Mrs. Albert

Personal Mention. Miss Clara Hermanson is visiting at the home of Mrs. Robert Howard in Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Vincent will leave the latter part of next week on the Shriners' special for Seattle and different points in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walters and family leave tonight for the Atlantic coast, where they will remain during July.

LONE MAN AMIDST 150 OF FAIR SEX

Sorority Train from Chicago Carries but a Single Man, and He is from Omaha.

WILL HE BE VERY LONESOME?

Like the man cast adrift on the ocean with water all about him and not a drop to drink, there is one Omaha man who finds himself in the same relative condition with reference to his social standing and position. This man is Oscar A. Scott. Surrounded by women, young and old, fair and brunettes, for the next few days he is likely to be a social outcast or a most popular individual.

Mr. Scott is the only man on the Pi Phi Beta special train that is being whirled along toward the Pacific coast over the Union Pacific. Not until he reaches Berkeley, where the Pi Phi Beta convention is to be held, and where he will meet other men, will Mr. Scott come into his own. Until then he will simply be a mere man among 150 women.

The Pi Phi from Chicago and the east arrived over the Northwestern occupying a special train. Aside from the trainmen there was not a male person aboard. There were 106 of the women folk and when the train pulled in the Union station the young women and older ones flattered down over the platform like a boy of young partridges, running about in a manner that struck consternation to the hearts of the red caps.

Eighteen from Omaha. What seemed to please them most was the efforts of Mr. Scott, who apparently seeking to overcome the Omaha Pi Phi, was trying to board the train and immediately this mere and lone man was greeted with:

"Are you really going with us? We're so glad that you came." "We had been looking for you, but hardly expected you." "There was a man in Chicago who promised to go, but backed out when he saw us." "We are glad that there is one man in Omaha who has courage." "We'll make the trip pleasant for you," and scores of other similar and cheering expressions.

Mr. Scott is not a quitter and carrying the luggage of his daughter, Miss Uarda, who is a member of the Nebraska University fraternity, he was able to qualify for a ride on the special and was soon safely stowed away in the special car chartered by the Nebraska Pi Phi.

Starts Out Lonely. However, Mr. Scott admitted that he was lonely, remarking: "I fancy that before I reach California, I will be ready to change places with Robinson Crusoe, but right now things look pretty good and I hope to make friends with somebody before the day is over."

To a friend, Mr. Scott confided that when he engaged his accommodations on the Pi Phi train, he was assured that there would be at least enough men for company aboard. Later, when he discovered that he would be the only man, he asserted that he would not back out even if there were 1,000 women and girls, adding: "I am going to play the string out and make the best of it. If they don't want to mix with men, I will have a delightful rest and will not in my time gazing at scenery."

Smyth Becomes an Encyclopedia for Auto Tourists

"How far is it to Cheyenne?" an auto tourist asked Secretary Smyth at Acid headwaters. Smyth looked bewildered. He is familiar with almost every stopping place on all the auto routes, but "Sheenle" was a new one to him.

"Can't you tell me how far it is?" the autoist repeated. "I mean this town in Wyoming," he explained, pointing to Cheyenne on the map.

"Oh, that's different," said Smyth, trying to hide a smile. "That's Shy-Am, not Sheenle."

In telling about it afterward, Smyth said he has lots of similar experiences in his day's work.

"Just the other day, a Boston man wanted to know if there were any inhabitants west of Fremont," he asserted. "And another man from the east asked if it would be safe for a single, unarmed auto party to travel across the plains."

"The old idea about the wild and woolly west seems to stick, but when these easterners return and stop off again in Omaha, they always are enthusiastic about the progress of the west. They find that all their old ideas about the west are wrong."

KRUG PARK MAKES READY FOR THREE-DAY FESTIVITIES

The big three-day celebration at the popular Krug park, starting the 4th and lasting over the 5th and 6th, will no doubt be one of immense proportions, if the attendance of previous seasons can be taken as a criterion. Extra precaution has been made to see that there are sufficient picnic tables to care for every one while the basket lunch is in vogue. This popular resort offers an opportunity to those that are pleasure bent to get out in the open away from the heat of the city and spend a day without discomfort.

More Relatives of Signers of Liberty Declaration Report

Mrs. Alberta Regnier, 4300 Grant street, is the latest Omahan to announce that she is a relative of a signer of the Declaration of Independence. These announcements are coming through the request the Pennsylvania society and other local organizations have made that such persons make themselves known in order that they might be gathered together for a committee to receive the Liberty bell when it comes to Omaha July 9.

Mrs. Regnier telephoned M. J. Greevy, secretary of the Pennsylvania society, Abraham Clark, one of those who signed the Declaration of Independence, was Mrs. Regnier's great-great uncle. His brother, James Clark, was her great-great grandfather. The Pennsylvania society is to hold a meeting in the pioneer's room of the court house this evening to complete arrangements for their part in the formal reception of the Liberty bell.

BURGLAR IS DISCOVERED, BUT ESCAPES WITH LOOT

Mrs. Sam Maisei, 2216 Charles street, was awakened early to find a burglar in her room. She screamed and awakened the men folk of the household, but before they could respond the prowler had made good his escape. He secured a $50 haul.

Israel Gershader, who lives next door, awoke when Mrs. Maisei screamed and started for his neighbor's residence to find two packages of apparel beneath his window that had been taken from his own home.

Where America Has Lagged Behind!

Compared to the other Great Nations of the world our country is still young. It is conceded that we have trailed behind in the making of correct and truthful statements in advertising. Recently there gathered in Chicago representatives of the world's Ad Clubs. It was not our good fortune to be present, but from the Press reports and by word of mouth of those who participated in the discussions—we are glad to record a great forward movement. There has been a wonderful awakening, and if our Uncle Samuel was late in seeing the light—who can say that now he has awoke—he will not lead the procession. More power to you gentlemen of the pencil and pen—we are with you heart and soul.

A Scotchman remarked on seeing window display: "Mon, but they're grand." Hundreds of women who know what's what gave utterance to ejaculations of delight. We'll have a crowd. You are invited.

Fellow citizens—which at this writing means men only of 21 years upwards—we are going to have a July Shirt Sale for you. The fabrics of which these shirts are made are of excellent quality. Styles are right, soft turn back cuffs. $1.50 should be the selling figure; yours Saturday at, each..... 77c

LADIES! Saturday, 2d floor up—we will sell a big lot of Waists—made fromorgette crepe, crepe de chine, lace and chiffon, high class materials, exclusive models—$5.00 each. We might be suspected (by those who know us not) of exaggeration if we quoted the value of these waists—so we will say nothing—except that you will find your visit profitable—very profitable—if you need a waist.

At 10 A. M.—Wonderful sale of Laces and Allovers, 69c the price. Many in this lot worth $3.00 per yard. Promptness pays.

SATURDAY being the day before the Glorious 4th we intend to celebrate with several Star Sales. From the opening hour, 8:30, till the curtains fall at 9 P. M., every section will be astir at KILPATRICK'S; but it is at 10 A. M. that we will have great excitement. RIBBON SALE starts then. Three prices—quality, beauty, style,

A July Sale of Living Room Furniture That Appeals to the Most Discriminating

WHEN you see the display on our main floor, you will wonder how we can possibly offer such beautiful, well-made furniture at such reductions.

That it is new and of the very latest design is apparent at a glance. There is not a piece in the lot but what has just been received—no odds and ends from the season's business—noting but new goods, up to standard in quality.

WHY? Because a prominent manufacturer was determined to keep his plant running during the dull months. The manufacturer made us the price. We bought several carloads—and you profit in the same degree as we did—as we BUY so we SELL.

The two examples here illustrated only suggest the importance of this sale to those who appreciate good furniture.

We enumerate a few additional items—there are many others:

- $30.00—Jacobean Oak Table, desk..... $20.00
- $19.00—Jacobean Oak Desk Chair..... $12.75
- $17.00—Jacobean Oak Table..... $12.50
